Title of Proposal	Brief description	Status
Collaboration for Faculty Development in Teaching & Scholarship at the University of Rwanda School of Nursing	Faculty Research, Community, Global, and/or Population-focused Seed Grants & Innovative Pedagogy Partnership Proposal to be developed at UR site visit, June-July 2014.	Katherine Camacho Carr, PhD, ARNP, CNM; Terri Clark, PhD, ARNP, CNM; Anne Hirsch, PhD, ARNP, FNP; & Alex Tumusiime, MSN, RN (University of Rwanda School of Nursing). Funded by CoN Dean's Seed Money Grants, $9,300 for 2014. Follow-up funding will be sought to continue the collaboration.
Bridging Capacities: Strengthening the Partnership between Rwanda (UR) and the Seattle University College of Nursing (SUCON)	This project builds on the established relationships developed between (SUCON), the Gashora Girls Academy of Science and Technology, the University of Rwanda College of Nursing (URCoN).	Lauren Valk Lawson DNP, RN and Terri Clark, PhD, ARNP, CNM. Funded by SU Global Outreach for $13,790 for 2014. Two SU faculty conducted a site visit to both UR Kigali and Gashora, Rwanda to advance community and university partnerships through health promotion activities in Gashora, and initiating a robust and long term College of Nursing faculty development program at UR. Two SUCON graduate nursing students were engaged in the development and provision of culturally-appropriate, community-centered health promotion activities as well as research assistance in collecting URCoN faculty focus group data. This project had an SU IRB exemption. Follow-up funding will be sought to continue the collaboration.
College of Nursing Mentoring	Member of Task Force to develop mentoring	At the request of the CoN Dean COMNI conducted three part study of CoN

Initiative (COMNI)	resources for CoN faculty in teaching and pedagogy.	teaching and learning. My contribution was (with D. Herstad) to retrieve and analyze deidentified quantitative student data on evaluation of courses and teaching. I also wrote the SU IRB application.
CoN Sinegal grant for Faculty Development in Pedagogy 2010-2011.	Program to improve faculty skills in on-line course design, specifically to develop bilingual participation capacity for CNM students doing clinical rotations in Ecuador.	Awarded and $2,890 funded.
SU Provost Pre-Tenure Sabbatical	Update on Malaria: The Politics, Issues and the Impact on Maternal-Child Health.	State of the Science review of recent developments in prevention, diagnosis and treatment of malaria. Implications for US and global providers. In process.
Associate Provost's Global Outreach funded award: Outreach Visiting Scholar Peter Chedraui	Dr. Chedraui is our collaborating partner at Sotomayor Obstetrical Hospital in Guayaquil, Ecuador.	Competitive award funded for $3000. I wrote the proposal and worked with Dr. Peter Chedraui to present the Nov 2011 Global Outreach Scholar's talk, a CoN Brown Bag Research lunch and arranged for him to be a guest presenter in NURS 520: Epidemiologic Analysis of Populations at Risk.
Writing Retreat for the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning (SoTL) participant June 2011.	Workshop-ed revisions of the Global Midwifery Education papers and published two peer-reviewed papers.	Clark, T. Just and Sustainable Global Midwifery Clinical Exchanges: Lessons Learned. International Journal of Nursing and Midwifery Vol. 5(1), pp. 1-5, January 2013. http://www.academicjournals.org/IJNM . DOI: 10.5897/IJNM12.018 Clark, T. Global Midwifery Education Collaborations: Translating Knowledge into Ethical Action. Journal of Midwifery and Women's Health . 2013 Jul-Aug;58(4):363-7. DOI: 10.1111/jmwh.12077.
Seattle University Advanced Nurse Education Expansion HRSA 10-281	Project Director: Proposal to provide tuition, fees and stipend support to expand the number of advanced practice primary care nursing students admitted to the SU MSN program.	Approved but not funded Requested $1.1 million.
